Vol. 1, #6

CEREBRAL NEBULA

28 July 1967

In rapture, we are publishing another glorious issue, issue #6. The CEREBRAL NEBULA is a journal of Postal Diplomacy (a registered trademark of Games Research, Inc., 48 Wareham St., Boston, Mass 02118). The editor is:

Greg Long
3526 S.W.112
Seattle, Wash. 98146

All correspondence should be directed to the editor unless otherwise noted. Any literary contributions are particularly solicited (articles do not have to be about Diplomacy) although the ed. reserves the right to edit, condense, or attempt to render an article unreadable.

Game fees for regular games are $2.00, which includes receiving zine until game is over. Variants are also $2.00 unless the variant proves to be too much of a strain on the gamesmaster. Team games are $1.00 for each person involved. This zine sells for $1.00 per 10 issues. Note, a list of games offered is carried somewhere in the interior of this issue.

With this issue we again go back to the use of ditto instead of mimeo. Hopefully the issues from here on in will be a little easier to read. By not using legal-size paper I can now put zine in my filing cab.

Diplomacy flag? Of recent there has been some talk of a Diplomacy flag and a flag for each magazine. This not only seems like a good idea to me but is being considered by a number of other editors. Any reader may send what he or she thinks is a good flag for CN. The best flag will receive a suitable reward.

Well, shall we take a look at how our games are coming along?

Press Releases

Peeryhaus (July 12, 1967) As many of the readers of Cerebral Nebulae are already aware I started my own Dippy 'zine, XENOGOGIC ((XENODOGIC for those who have read it)) shortly after CN made its appearance some time ago. The growth of XENOGOGIC has proceeded slightly faster than that of CN; both in length and in number of games ((he's also bigger than sTab, Broddinngag, & Graustark... in fact, he has the biggest literary waste land)). Since, as many of you also know, XENOGOGIC will next month expand even more in size and in number of games being carried ((you'll see your glorious ed. in some of these games)) (we are adding four new games); including 2 eight man games and 1 eleven man game) this effort has taken a great deal of time. There are also the fifteen or more games ((18 for me)) in which I am currently active that have made many demands on my time in addition to my various travels ((trips? hmmm)), etc. during the summer. For all these, and other reasons, I have not been able to give the attention I might have wished to 1967J. The combined disaster of failing to submit first moves, if such was the case, and being faced with a three way attack by neighbors has resulted in France's suffering. Rather than continue to allow her to suffer and to expend more of my own limited time on a loosing effort I have ordered France into civil disobedience ((sic)); and thus becoming the first player eliminated from CN ((congratulations Larry, you've just won the Medal of Glorious Victory)). I would like to congratulate Evans, Metzger, and Hueston for their brilliant execution of this attack. It was well done.

I would finally like to extend my best wishes to Cerebral Nebulas in its future activities, whatever they may be since I will probably not enter another game in this, or any, 'zine for some time to come. Having had the pleasure to meet one of the people responsible for your efforts (Doug Foyerskin) I think you will envelope a truly fine 'zine. Snoopy wishes you well.

((let me just say I recommend Harry's zine for its fine coverage of world affairs and its "pomo". Xerofogic has developed into one of the best zines on the coast. Harry is a good ally which can be seen in 68-0, 68-1, 68-2, & 68-3.))

RUSSIA: Russians brave high winds from down under.

Trebizond: While en route in the land "down under", the Admiral Ushakov was viciously attacked by hordes of Kurds and the resulting gun battle saw the advance missile projectors supplied to the Kurds by the missile weapons division of the Turkish army. The hail of fire from the tanks was so deadly that the Russia Admiralty decided to turn back.

USSR: Injury, gusts of 100-120 MPH, and a lack of fuel has caused the hospital ship to turn back. This is the Land of Alice, meaning the British are not even counting the British official newspaper.

Russia: Having just returned from a visit to the USSR (Russia), Impusland, Almond Island, Cymru, and USSR, the official messages from either his brothers or western powers do not allow, therefore, that the armistice should begin negotiations for a long winter ((open your eyes to the USA in the Baltic)). Accordingly, a huge wheat crop is being harvested in the winter. The Russian navy to the Baltic Sea is expected to open up the Baltic Sea of a vast amount of coal for the workers on the home front and the rest of the year.

Roma: In continuation of the policy adopted by the Italian government last fall, all Italian units have been issued orders to advance on the French held positions. Princess Janet's Our Rose Fleet has been ordered to sail to Spain to protect its citizens from the French dogs, and the newly built fleet of the western Mediterranean has been ordered into the Tyrrhenian. The Italian Armies also received orders to advance on France. The Italian government ~~wants it to be more~~ wants it to be more until the French are defeated.

Arkara: Her Royal Majesty, Queen Sarah F. Allen, requests the Russian government to state its requirements for a peaceful settlement of the current misunderstanding with Turkey.

Geneva (Reuters April 1962): The news in this border town is that the French government is controlled by a computer in the confines of Pearyhaus. The last shred of centralized government is reported to be in this fortified bunker. Meanwhile, austrian cavalry has stormed Galacia with only minor losses. Miles Standish reportedly leading the charge. In the north, Russian reindeers have taken Norway after a brief engagement with English vessels in Narvik bay. Only in Canada is the war not felt, although many troops (mostly French) have been flooding into the town. The economy has also witnessed a boom because of all international actions, no one seems to notice the war.

1902: The British fleet (Admiral) is to be concentrated in the Mediterranean.

ENGLAND (Turner): Build 3 Ships.

FRANCE (Stewart): 2 ships.

GERMANY (Heggart): 1 ship to Kiel & 3 ships.

ITALY (Turk): Build 2 ships & 2 destroyers.

AUSTRIA (Gomignani): receive 3 ships.

RUSSIA (Baker): build 2 War & 2 Mon.

Turkey (Wagner): build 1 Con.

The builds were informed to the players and Spring moves were then asked for. This issue is settled later between the players.

Sofia: The joint Austria-Turkish Council on International Health announced that the delegates had, in fact, come to an agreement on the proper spheres of influence of the two countries in the Balkans. All that remains is to clear all three pecky Italiens and Russians out of them.

Press Release

Naples: The Perennial Naples to Tunis Bathtub Race has begun. Every bathtub in the province of Naples has been entered this year to make the largest flotilla yet - five tubs. The entire race hinges on the efficiency of the key man in each crew of twelve - the baiicri - who must insure that the water flowing in the drain does not reach a sufficient level to sink the craft.

Just to prove people do win Diplomacy games we would like to congratulate Jerry Pournelle for his win in 1965D. The game was carried in Wild 'n Wooly and Jerry was playing Russia.

Congratulations to Derek Nelson for his win 1965F. Derek was playing Turkey and the game was carried in Graustark.

Finally congratulations to James Latimer for his win 1965E. James was Russia and the game was carried in Diplomania. Please note that a complete description of the above games and center year positions can be obtained from J. McCallum, Ralston, Alberta, Canada. Brb. #65 can be obtained for 10¢, which is the copy that gives summary of games.

On my recent trip to Southern California in late June I visited the Diplomacy outpost of San Diego. I arrived at Hal Naus's trailer slightly earlier than Mr. Naus expected and briefly watched Hal put his trailer back into shape. Hal showed me his Diplomacy in his not to large trailer which impressed me very much as I have a dining room and bedroom devoted to the subject and still am crowded ((I have to sleep on top of all the Dippy "junk" in my room.-ed.)). I spoke with Larry Peery over the phone for a good half an hour and finally convinced him to journey down to Naus's place as his day was already shot. He disclosed his plans for XENODOGIC #3 and shared some colorful secrets which tend to make him one of Diplomacy's more unusual players. The whole visit was very pleasant and I wish to say thank you to both Mr. Naus and Mr. Peery for the wonderful time. The only thing which gave me a bad impression of the greater San Diego-LA area ((isn't San Diego a suburb of LA?)) was the freeways. It took us three and a half hours to travel back to LA from San Deigo, a distance of only 90 miles. I suggest Southern Californians either widen their freeways or bring along a picnic lunch (and maybe dinner) when traveling over them.

@ Letters to the Ed. @

Marion Turner, "This is so outrageous not even Larry Peery or I would try it!!!

Bill Cowden, "Anyways right guess, I am not particularly interested in games."

8 AH Games

Every comments about AH games where he than shooting craps. I also asked you to this statement. Well, no one disagreed with Larry.

W & Tactics will carry a special Dippy McCallum, Capt. R.C. Walker, and John Boardman developed into a springboard for almost every dealing with AH games, Table-Top games, many others are introduced in detail. This magazine is well worth your money.

Shawn, The Empire will be the biggest take-off from regular Diplomacy. The variant played in a big cube. When the game is over... interesting? You may witness your first one.

There will be another wide, if not wooly, variant soon (possibly only people needed). This 55 man game has got to be a larger version of the game, Feud.II, is Back by popular demand

UFOs are there ...
only if you care!

Who cares if he's up to his neck in a rice paddy, six billion miles from home?
Who cares if he's lonely, at that frozen
Arctic outpost?

Who cares how he feels, patrolling the barbed-wire edge of danger- San Diego, Minneapolis, & New York?

Who cares what he does, when his ship comes into that teeming foreign port?

Are UFOs needed today? Just ask the 2,300,000 men and women who see them every year.

Know a better way to say you're grateful to them, for helping to safeguard you?

Remember, civilian-supported UFOs depend entirely on your contribution.
Give, because UFOs are there, only if you care!

The XENODOGIC couldn't have said it better, "Then there is the matter of the International Inquirer ((i.e., I.E.)) which once again has dropped its low-level pornography on yours, and mine (own self true) doorstep.
Pure unadulterated (well, from what Musbach's been saying, even that may not be true), garbage."

Did you know this zine really is controlled from beings from another planet? As you can see, they haven't yet mastered our(?) form of speech.
Or is that a typewriter is to primitive for them?
Ever tried duplicator fluid over potatoes?
See Doug I told you they wouldn't believe us!
Correction fluid is better then glue.

Cerebral Quassar ?

In Graustark #132 Mr. Boardman made a reference to what was called a "quassar". I share Mr. Boardman's views when he says, "We have so little information about them that the most wildly divergent and unlikely theories have been put forth." With that statement let us once again depart from the field of Diplomacy into the field of cosmology. Since this little talk is concerning quassars, lets first try and find out what a quassar looks like. Basically a quassar is a "star-like" object which has surpassed anything in the universe in its brilliance and relative speed. When compared to a star in the Milky Way for instance a quassar may appear to be as bright as the star to which it is compared but, the quassar is billions of light years farther out in space. Thus, a quassar is not a star, at least in the sense that a normal star is in. Then just what is a quassar. In my opinion, a quassar is an implosion of a "super-star". The mass of a super star is needless to say of enormous grossness. Of course this star is rare in itself which is the main argument to the presence, if any, of any super-stars. Because quassars have gone into the unknown everybody can state their own wild theory and can't be proven wrong.

Mr. Boardman, what do you think a quassar is? Any readers cosmologists?

GAMES

As announced in Erehwon, most games carried in that issue can also be found here. We also carry variants on the regular board as well as variants on maps, etc. Doug Baker's Balkan War may also get started. The game is the only variant which can end in a smaller length of time. Who knows, I may even get around to finishing the rules for Nuclear Diplomacy.

Registered

Imperialism VIII (the "world" game): Cowan, Haggart, Musa, & Benson.

Imp. IX : Gemignani & Princeps

Balkan: Gemignani & Musa

Regular: Arc, Greene, & Blake.

If you would like to add or remove your name from the above list please so inform me. Also, I may have missed someone.

~~Contest off! No, there is not a free game for every person to find a type error in this or any issue. Anyway, I don't make any errors! The nerve.~~

For those of you who read Graustark please note (as I'm sure you have) the remarks by William Lee Linden. His greatest blunder was asking who "Bangs Leslie Tapscott" was. Well, he found out. I could just see John's face when he saw that classic line, "who is Bangs Leslie Tapscott". Congratulations John, we knew you could do it.

The latest issue of International Inquirer at last revealed Erehwon's famous anonymous Neutral Player. I've always pictured him as a Superman type character incapable of being backstabbed while being of a very weak hand in leading an attack.
